Senator Lodge's Resolution for an Investigation

Of the Charges of Attempted Bribery Made Against the Sugar Trust.

Washington, May 17.—The resolution introduced by Senator Lodge to investigate the charges of the attempted bribery of Senators Kyle and Hunton, also the allegations that the sugar trust had made contributions to campaign funds, was discussed in the senate today and passed with amendments that broadened its scope.

Senators Cockrell, Hoar, Chandler, Faulkner and Vilas offered amendments which made the resolution a veritable drag net, including all charges of bribery, all allegations of contributions by the sugar trust, either directly or indirectly, to campaign committees, or used in elections by either party, or that any senator had in any way been improperly influenced in the tariff legislation.

Senator Hansborough read a letter from Butte asking an investigation.

Senator Hunton asked a speedy investigation, as did Senators Harris and Allen, in behalf of Senator Kyle, who was absent, declaring he would demand an investigation.

Senator Allen made the resolution more specific by adding: "Or whether any senator has been speculating in what is known as sugar stock while the tariff bill has been pending."

ALABAMA FOR OATES

He Has a Majority of the Delegates

And Good Chances for More in Other Counties Yet to Hear From.

New Orleans, May 17.—The Daily States' Montgomery, Ala., special says: The Advertiser has received practically official reports from 60 out of 66 counties in the state which held conventions yesterday, nine-tenths of which have instructed their delegates. The returns show that Oates has received 255 delegates, two more than a majority, which nominates, without including any counties not heard from. The counties not heard from are Baldwin, Bibb, Geneva, Monroe, Pickens and Tuscaloosa, which have altogether 35 delegates. Of these Johnston will probably get 22 and Oates 13, making Oates 268, or 32 more than Captain Johnston.
But give Captain Johnston 7 of Pickens and half of those conceded to Oates, and he will still fall short of a majority. That is, giving him everything he can possibly get, which is too liberal.

They claim to have strong ground for a contest, and it will be viewed with interest throughout the state.
There will probably be a contest from Lee, based upon the reception or acceptance of men who refuse to pledge themselves to support the nominee. From the present indications these are the only contests that can possibly arise. The Johnston men here have practically conceded their defeat, while the Oates men are jubilant. The matter will not be finally settled until May 22, when the state convention meets.
President Cleveland's administration was endorsed by most of the counties.

TERRIFIC STORM.

Sheep Died by the Thousand in the Deep Snow.

Fresno, Cal., May 17.—Returns from the mountains, which are beginning to come in, show that the loss to sheep men on account of Monday's storm is far greater than at first stated. At one place 4000 sheep were found frozen to death in one heap, where they had tried to find shelter among the trees. The snow was two feet deep on top of them. There are thousands of sheep farther back in the mountains, and they cannot be reached on account of the snow. It is hardly possible they can be saved. If they were not frozen to death they will die from starvation before the snow melts.

BIG BARGE LINE

To Transport Alabama Coal to Louisiana Points.

Birmingham, Ala., May 17.— Arrangements have been perfected and contracts made for the operation of a barge line from Greenville, Miss., the Mississippi river terminal of the Georgia Pacific railway, and the Gulf. Armstrong & Co., of Cincinnati, will at once move their yards and fifty 10,000-ton barges to Greenville. Alabama coal will be transported from Birmingham to Greenville and floated down the river to supply the sugar plantations in Louisiana. It is also intended to develop trade by this line with Texas and South American countries.

AT WEST.

The People Furnished a Feast of Political Oratory.

West, May 17.—The people of West have been treated to a general, dilectable, vote-making, political feast. The menu was select and tempting. Attorney General Culbertson, candidate for governor, reviewed his achievements for the state, defended Democracy, outlined a policy which should control him in his administration it honored with the office of governor. He charmed, convinced and captured his audience.

Hon. M. M. Crane, candidate for attorney general, excoriated the Populists, defended Democracy and closed with an earnest appeal for all those who, like the prodigal, have strayed from home, to come back, but he admonished them to leave their heresies and vagaries with their dirty, filthy rags of communism and anarchy, and come back with a confession of past folly and pledges for future loyalty.

Hon. M. J. Moore followed in a lengthy speech, but spoke under great embarrassment, as the audience began, one by one, to drop out. Mr. Moore arraigned the national banks and declared for the free and unlimited coinage of silver.
Though in error on some points, on the whole he voiced the sentiments of most Southern and Western democrats.
